ADDENDUM (p. 194).—Mr. Kenyon, comparing a papyrus, in a hand very similar to that of the Alcaeus fragment, published by Comparetti in the Gomperz Festschrift, which has on its verso a document of the third century and so can hardly itself be older than the second century, is of opinion that Dr. Schubart's date is too early.

The editor takes this opportunity of asking the readers of the C.R. to correct the following misprints in names of modern Greek writers in the March issue which escaped detection owing to the disadvantages under which the proof was corrected.
